Important Notes:

- The payroll register is a summary of each employee’s gross and net pay, including all applicable tax and statutory deductions.
- Ensure accuracy of all employee data and payment calculations before submitting for records or audits.
- This document should be kept confidential and used only for official payroll and tax compliance purposes.
- Tax values shown are sample figures; always use current and applicable tax tables for actual payroll runs.
- Other deductions may include social security, health insurance, or loan repayments as required.
